Cow Belles To Present Meat Cooking School In Porterville At Memorial Auditorium May 2

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 25 — Tulare County Cowbelles will present a school for home economics students and homemakers at the Porterville Memorial auditorium next Thursday, May 2, at 1:30 p.m., with Miss Florence Gattshall, home economist from the National Livestock and Meat board in charge.

Demonstrations will cover meat cookery, care, preparation, and serving of meat. Each person attending the demonstration will receive an up-to-date meat booklet that features outstanding meat recipes.

Miss Gattshall will stress the value of low temperatures in cooking all meats, in contrast to higher temperatures, pointing out that this method cuts down shrinkage and results in more tender, juicier and more palatable meat servings.

All women of the community are invited to attend the demonstration.

The county Cow Belle organization annually presents a meat cookery school in Porterville. Miss Gattshall will also present her program at a Cow Belle school in Visalia.

Tulare-Kings County Cal-Aggie Alumni dinner was held last night at the Hotel Johnson, in Visalia. Kenley Mays, of Porterville, spoke on student outlook on the Davis campus.

IT WAS like a family reunion when Harold Powers, lieutenant governor of the state of California, left, met Miss Ina Stiner, historian and retired Porterville teacher, at the Joe Faure home Monday afternoon, for Miss Stiner and Lt. Gov. Powers' father, the late Frank Powers, attended the University of Nevada at the same time, and both lived at the home of Miss Stiner's grandmother. And the Henry Stiner family (Miss Stiner's father) and the Frank Powers' family were well acquainted as neighbors, since both lived near Eagleville, in Modoc county. Although Miss Stiner had not been acquainted with Harold Powers they spent a pleasant few minutes recalling family memories.

We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

INTERESTING INDEED are University of California Extension service courses available to those individuals engaged in the legal profession: A study of insolvency planning, then a couple of courses on bankruptcy . . . Actually, the first course seems to us to be a waste of time. We're able to remain pretty well insolvent without any special training or planning.

IT MUST have been fate. Vira Baucom, mother of Dr. Bill Baucom, new president of the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association, was the lucky winner, at Monday night's Sportsmen's banquet, of a pair of colored glasses from Williams Jewelers . . . And son Bill is an optometrist.

SPEAKING OF the Sportsmen's banquet, a "tempest in a tea pot" was stirred up by the town's Democrat boss, and one or two of his cohorts, when California Lt. Governor Harold J. Powers accepted an invitation to attend a Republican get-together prior to meeting his commitment as speaker for the banquet. In fact, a few gaskets were blown in unison, but gasket blowing in this quarter doesn't evoke much concern any more . . . After all, "the old order changeth", and the tempest was uncalled for, since the Lieutenant Governor was right on schedule for the political Republican meeting and the non-political sportsmen's meeting.

REFERRING BACK to last week's "We The People Letter", it appears to us that an organization such as the Porterville Barn theater must always receive its driving force from a relatively small, interested group. Just how much this involves financial subsidy depends entirely on how good a job the theater does in presenting plays with box office appeal. . . . We don't question the entertainment value of the Barn, at least not for the past year or so, and we have seen individuals who certainly benefited from Barn experience in development of ability to stand up in front of people and say something . . . But, really, we can't conclude that a person is cultured or uncultured because he does or does not participate in Barn work or attend Barn plays, and that applies to the "itinerate farm laborer" as well as to us. We spent a few years ourselves as a laborer on a farm, and we've attended some Barn plays and missed others. We just can't see that working on a farm or going to the Barn, or not going to the Barn has much to do with our "cultural" development; in fact we don't know whether we're cultured or not . . . We doubt that the Barn will progress by demanding community support; key to the Barn situation is the aforementioned small, dedicated group, plus good plays that will draw cash customers, plus adequate publicity.

Supplies of new crop long white potatoes from California are increasing rapidly in national markets.

the Rocky Hill arena. If the mule runs true to form, Beeswax will receive a liberal education himself before the mule gets through with him. Moore will also bring his dog act into the arena during both days of the Round-Up.

DOYLE COLONY

By George A. Heintz

By George A. Heintz

Hindsite and Foresite: "Although I voted against the High School Bond deal before — I'm inclined to favor this fifty cent assessment building program", so said an old time home owner in this community—he seems to echo the sentiment of many "hard shell" tax payers in Doyle Colony! — trustees, Frank Sheldon, Doc Howard Baker, and Ray Hutchinson intelligently presented the issue at Tuesday night PTA meeting.

I Noted: Grevilla and Date traffic congestion has been relieved somewhat since the Grevilla shoulder has been extended — now, a stop and go sign would further help if only operated during State Hospital shifts.

I've Seen: Yellow gold, black gold (oil), white gold (cotton), but Charley Pernu comes up with a new one in his advertising — "Let me bale your GREEN gold — yep, it's alfalfa!"

You are an old timer if you remember when: Dick Leonart (Dick's Automotive) and Frank Lalanne (auto wreckers) had an auto race down Main Street during an Armistice celebration.

I wonder why: Flood lights were burning at Rocky Hill arena Tuesday afternoon? — sunrise services were Sunday — and then it was raining "cats and boxers" while 40 acres of sprinkler system were goin' full blast on certain absentee land lord's property.

Money in the bank: parking on the other guy's nickel.

April Song: Beware busy bees buzzin' orange blossoms at Lindsay.

April Showers: bring out those new fangled lawn mowers on Dixie Drive.

Rodeo Dept.: Jim Shoulders and Casey Tibbs among the top rodeo money makers of the nation will do their stuff at the Clovis Rodeo this weekend — expect they will be at Rocky Hill Arena, if no prior commitments the 4th and 5th.

The Name Dept.: Mrs. H. D. Nicholson was installed historian for Doyle PTA; she is also running for elementary school trustee — Glen Wright, the mover,

From Daybell Nursery

By John

They say every cloud has a silver lining and the way the weather's been this year we should be long on silver lining. There are children nearly six months old that haven't seen the sun shine yet. This is good for mildew but hard on human beings.

This weather problem we can't do much about but mildew we can. On roses use Orthorox, on grapes Sulfur, and for mildewing husbands send them fishing — keeps them young, healthy and so beat up you can handle them easily.

While the old man's out floundering around in the ice water you might take the back seat out and come down for a load of plants. There are many things in bloom which are even prettier than our picture catalogue. Weigela, which comes loaded with clusters of pink or red flowers for the shade. Solanum, which likes a real hot spot to produce quantities of blue flowers an inch across. Pink flowering Hawthorne, a small tree, for hiding power poles or the neighbor's view of your patio.

If you're the gambling type, try Hibiscus for a sunny spot. Might freeze next winter but lots of color while it lasts. This is also true of Bougainvillea, a vine of great beauty but tender skin. Thousands of other shrubs to gaze upon and absolutely no charge for looking. Daybell's Nursery, "E" Street, north of Olive, in Porterville.

OUR TOWN

By Gardner (Bud) Wheeler
EASTER DAY, 1957 has come and gone and our town has settled back into relative normalcy. Ministers of the community were delighted at the view of packed audiences Easter morning, and doubtless the words of the old hymn, "Let Every Day Be An Easter" flashed through their minds. Intermittent church-goers can now relax until Christmas.

Even the poultry business took a flutter, not in a literal way, as small fry throughout the town boiled eggs and spilled dyes 'round and about their home kitchens. Mothers were hard put to it to keep the proper spirit of sweetness and light against such odds. Since Easter morning the staple diet of the community has been hard-boiled eggs; in sandwiches, on the half shell, in salads or even straight. Duncan Hines would be considerably shaken at viewing post-Easter menus, but we were even more shaken at having to eat them.

UNUSUAL IS A WORD invented by California chamber of commerce to describe the state's weather. As usual, the weather the past week has been unusual. For those of you who haven't had time to glance out the window, it has been overcast and threatening. Threatening to either clear up or rain in a very indecisive way. This condition has the Valencia orange shippers in our town singing the blues, because it has held back the maturity on their fruit and kept them from filling export orders. The prospect of ships sailing for Europe with something other than oranges in their holds is a very heartbreaking proposition, and from the sad faces along packing-house row, there are a lot of ships doing just that.

WE WERE READING the Saturday Evening Post from back to front the other day. After wading through the ads and postscripts, we finally arrived at page 29 and discovered a write-up about the "Father Knows Best" show. This is a program designed to sell something or other that appears on TV each week. There was a splash of pictures on the page and who should confront us, but Peter Tewksbury, director of the show. In spite of the alias, "Peter", we recognized Pete immediately. For those with short memories, Pete was the first director of the Barn theater and as one who worked more than somewhat to get it established in our town. Pete is just one of several grads of the Barn to achieve considerable success in the entertainment world down South; another is

Vol. X — No. 43

NOW IS THE TIME

There have been times in the history of the American Republic when certain forces have become too big for their britches; when power outran responsibility.

There was a time when corporations became too powerful in relation to their responsibilities, with the result that in the interest of the public good, certain laws had to be passed, among them the anti-trust laws.

And there was a period when waste of our natural resources threatened the future of the Republic, so it became necessary, through law, to establish certain responsibilities to go with the right to use natural resources.

Then there was a period when the banks of the nation thought less of responsibility than power; result, certain banking laws became necessary to protect the public and the people whose money is in banks.

Now it has become organized labor's turn.

Current hearings in Washington, D. C. have brought into public light certain abuses that have been talked about for some time but which have been difficult to pin down.

Basically these abuses evolve around the fact that the power of organized labor has far overrun its legal responsibilities.

Within organized labor itself there is unquestionably a need for legal reforms to protect the union member from arbitrary use of union funds by union leaders.

In relation to the general public, organized labor must be made legally responsible for its actions; legal responsibility of organized labor must be brought into line with its legal powers.

Certainly we do not question the right of any group to organize, but there can be no question about the necessity for responsibility going with power.

Right now is the time for national and state legislators to straighten out this matter of power and responsibility in connection with organized labor, just as the situation has been straightened out in the past in relation to other segments of the Republic.

"EVEN THOUGH the price of practically everything else has skyrocketed," explains Reddy Kilowatt, "a kilowatt hour of electricity in Southern California costs less today than it did 20 years ago." ## Grape Leafhopper Control Method Information

By Frederik L. Jensen
Farm Advisor

VISALIA, Apr. 25 — Unless the overwintering grape leafhopper population is high and producing serious damage, delay control measures until later in the season. Early insecticide applications have not generally proved very effective.

It is difficult to obtain a good deposit on the restricted amount of foliage that has developed to date. In addition not all the adult leafhoppers have moved to the vines from their overwintering quarters.

California wheat production this year is estimated at 180,700 tons, compared to 247,000 tons last year.

By Giff Newman

Baseball continues to hold the limelight in this area with the Porterville High Panthers scheduled to meet league leading Hanford Friday, April 26. Currently Hanford is tied with Mt. Whitney of Visalia for the number one spot. But even though Bob Sevier's Panthers ran right smack into trouble at the Delano Tournament last week we can't count them out of contention for the coveted first place. As the record stands now Hanford and Mt. Whitney each have two wins and one loss but the Panthers are pushing hard with one win and two losses. The league is half over with the coming Friday game and Coach Bob Sevier has high hopes of tucking this one under his belt to put the Panthers in a threatening position.

Meanwhile, donations for the Little League ball park continue to climb. The youngsters are scheduled to start their league play May 20 with six teams signed to form the league. The Babe Ruth league is currently set for May 21, for their league opener. Six teams are entered in this age group also.

We shall expect some sparkling talent from these Porterville youths as they take the field in league competition.

Basketball and Bill Sharman fans in the Porterville area are afforded the opportunity to see both at the scheduled Tuesday, April 30, exhibition game between the Boston Celtics and the Professional All Stars. The game is scheduled to be played at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles. A section has been reserved for the Porterville fans that would like to see the former Porterville high star, Bill Sharman, in action again. Now celebrated Sharman and his teammates are expected to give the spectators exciting, top-notch basketball entertainment against the Pro-All Stars. Anyone wishing to obtain tickets may contact Ken Richardson or Ken Threlkeld.

Unlike their southern California brethren, central California anglers will have their traditional "opening day" of trout fishing this Saturday. It remains the big day for thousands of sportsmen in this part of the state but just another day for the fishermen south of the Tehachapi.

Recent rains will raise the water temperature and reduce the tendency of the trout to feed so fishing success may be slowed down accordingly. Plenty of trout will be available in all accessible waters so it may take a bit of patience and persistence to tempt the fish to feed.

Anglers are reminded that under a new regulation trout may not be taken with liver or the meat of bird or mammal. Salmon eggs, worms, insect, etc., are legal.

Regardless of the rain, streams and rivers should not be muddy or high but may be somewhat discolored but this should not be any great factor in fishing success. It is reported that the Kings River above Pine Flat is muddy due to dam construction work.

Actually, the rain may be more beneficial to the angler as the cold weather that accompanied the precipitation stopped or slowed down the mountain run-off.

Dirt roads may not be in very good condition so anglers should tread the unbeaten path with care and a tow rope. We remind anglers that one of the best items to take on a fishing trip is a warm blanket.

Department of fish and game officials are extremely anxious to check all fish taken from Avocado Lake. This is the only body of water being especially managed for fishing under the ownership of the department and the creel census is one means of management.

Warm water fishing slackened off with cooler temperatures but it doesn't take many warm days this time of year to start the bass, catfish, etc., to start taking the angler's lure again.

Frogging has been exceptionally good throughout the valley with no shortage of this game.

Salmon fishing depends upon the weather which has supplied plenty of wind to keep the anglers off the ocean.

Striped bass fishing has suffered accordingly too, but plenty of stripers being taken nevertheless, mostly up on the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers.

Poultryman Gets National Award

WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 25 — J. J. Warren, of North Brookfield, Mass., has been given a United States chamber of commerce award for Great Living Americans, in the field of agriculture. Warren was breeder of Hen of the Year for 1956, and had the champion hen in the 1955-56 National Laying Tests, one of his crossbreds that produced 342 eggs in 50 weeks to establish a new national laying record.

STUDY IS ASKED ON FREESTONE PEACHES

MODESTO, Apr. 25 — Directors of the California Freestone Peach association has asked the Agricultural Extension to make a study of control methods for non-fruiting disease that is becoming more and more of a problem in some freestone producing areas.

100 BREEDERS CONSIGN TO STATE RAM SALE

SACRAMENTO, Apr. 25 — One hundred of the West's best known breeders have consigned 1,800 head to the 37th annual California Ram sale that is set for the state fair grounds April 29-30.

Twenty-fifth annual wool show will be held Sunday morning, Apr. 28, and prior to the sale, 19th annual Far Western International Dog trials will be held in front of the fair grounds grandstand.

Pre-Packaging Trend Continues

LOS ANGELES, Apr. 25 — Up to thirty-five per cent of all fruits and vegetables are now being pre-packaged for the consumer, Robert B. Clark, assistant dealer service manager, told Sunkist directors at their April meeting. He said that after three years of the pre-packaging program, 271 firms in the United States and Canada are using polyethylene bags for fruit under a Sunkist franchise program.

STRAWBERRIES TOTAL 20,700 ACRES

SACRAMENTO, Apr. 25 — California has 20,700 acres in strawberries this year, nine per cent more than in 1956. National production of strawberries is estimated at 22,340,000 pounds this year, 19 per cent below last year.

SERBIAN SAYS
CANCER DRIVE
IN FULL SWING

VISALIA, Apr. 25 — Tulare County's 1957 Cancer crusade is now in full swing and gathering momentum fast, according to Robert Serbian, campaign chairman for the county.

He expressed the hope that this year's goal of $23,650 will be reached in record time. Four communities, he said, have already passed the half-way point in raising their assigned quotas. These are Waukena, Three Rivers, Visalia, and Woodlake.

The goals at which workers in the local areas are shooting are as follows: Alpaugh, $50; Cutler-Orosi, $600; Dinuba, $1,850; Ducor, $350; Earlimart, $450; Exeter, $1,950; Farmersville, $250; Goshen, $100; Ivanhoe, $300; Johnsondale - Hot Springs, $100; Lemon Cove, $250; Lindsay, $1,800; Porterville, $3,500; Pixley, $150; Springville, $350; Strathmore, $650; Sultana, $50; Terra Bella, $250; Three Rivers, $400; Tipton, $250; Tulare, $3,250; Visalia, $6,500; Woodlake, $350.

"The dual purpose of the month-long Cancer crusade is summed up in the slogan 'Fight Cancer with a Checkup and a Check', Serbian said. "All funds collected are for the support of the American Cancer society's year-round programs of research, education, and service to the cancer patient. Forty per cent of every contribution received by the society in Tulare county remains here for use in community programs of cancer control."

BANK AWARDS

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 25 — Erma Lalanne and Ellajean Miller, Porterville college students, have received $100 each under a Bank of America business awards program.

Up N' Down WEST OLIVE

Marshall Field once said: "Buying real estate is not only the best way, the quickest way, and the safest way, but the only way to become wealthy!" — there is no grass growing in the middle of West Olive these days.

Looking Ahead Dept: Did you know that 1,000 new jobs would create a five million dollar payroll and that it will support 115 teachers, 130 school rooms, 140 professional men, 160 retail stores with three million annual sales, 2,000 autos and service for them, and 3,000 homes?

Itsa Fact: There is a drug store included in the plans at that new Purity shoppin' center. There will be a new grocery and super filling station at that new subdivision just west of the Tule river where some 50 homes are nearing completion.

On the Rumor List: An ultra modern drive-in bank — an aircraft electronic factory — a cannery near Woodville or Cotton Center.

I didn't know: that flowers grown in the Bay area are trucked to the L. A. wholesale market and then must be repacked and trucked back to the Porterville area. But so said Clifton Landers of Clifton's Flowers — and have you ordered your Mother's Day corsage yet?

Just been: To see Jess Been, new furniture manager at Dependable Refrigeration; nice selections to choose from, that combination divan, snack and beverage deal is something to look at.

For a busy guy: Walter Groshong, owner of G. G. Cabinetry, in rear of Jim Gurley's sign operation, besides building sturdy cabinets, Walter helps build sturdy kids — he is Cub Scout master for some 85 youngsters!

Busier yet: a full crew working to get that new Chuck Wagon eating spot open for the Round-up, May 4 and 5.

That new juke box number at Gig's Drive-in — "I'm a Lonesome Polecat".

SCHOOL VOCAL GROUPS PRESENT
CONCERT FRIDAY

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 25 — Vocal groups of Porterville high school, directed by Arthur Huff and John Vaznaian, will present a public concert in the Memorial auditorium tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds from a 75-cent admission charge (50 cents for students) will go toward expenses for the school's concert choir when it appears next month at a northern California music festival in San Jose.

COOPERATIVE STUDY AIMED AT ALFALFA APHID

VISALIA, Apr. 25 — More than 30 alfalfa fields throughout California will be used in a cooperative study by growers and University of California researchers to stop the spotted aphid that has brought estimated damage of $25 million since its appearance in the state.

First goal will be to determine what combination of circumstances, such as weather, natural enemies, disease, habits of the pest and growth of alfalfa, relate to increases and decreases in aphid population.

Other studies are being conducted in chemical control, resistant varieties and utilization of natural enemies of the spotted aphid.

Porterville Dons

will give forth with western music and entertainment.

The Round-Up weekend will officially get underway at 10 a.m., May 4, when a western parade moves down Porterville's Main street. Featured will be mounted groups, individual riders, and horse-drawn vehicles. No motor vehicles will be allowed in the parade.

The Round-Up will feature the bucking and roping string of the Christensen Brothers; professional rodeo cowboys will be competing for world championship Rodeo Cowboy association points.

Booked as arena events are Porterville's Canterbelles, precision team of girl riders. Beeswax Moore will have his educated, but stubborn mule, performing for laughs only; with him also will be his trick dogs. Wes Curtis will be the Round-Up clown and bullfighter; Mel Lampert will announce the show.

Advance sale of tickets will start Saturday morning, with ticket booth set up in front of Leggett's store. The first 500 persons buying reserved or box seats will receive a free Round-Up tie. Rodeo headquarters is open at 102 North Main.

Hi 4-H Plans Booth For Fair

By Viola Meier

VANDALIA, Apr. 25 — The Hi 4-H is going to have a booth at the penny carnival and also at the county 4-H fair. It will feature such 4-H supplies as Junior and Senior caps, pins, 4-H pencils, key chains, ties and many other valuable and beautiful articles. Orders for 4-H jackets and subscriptions to the National 4-H News magazine can be made at this time.

New Scale

Chairman Bob Board says that arrangements have been completed with organizations that will sell food and drinks during the fair.

Contract is ready to be completed for top professional acts that will be featured in the grandstand circus that will be presented each night of the fair.

Donald Jones states that an excellent class of Arabian horses will be on hand for the Arabian show that is slated for the first afternoon of the fair; Guido Lombardi reports that early entries indicate a top Quarter Horse show the second afternoon.

As a special feature of the opening night grandstand circus, Arabian horses will be shown in action, with riders in Arabian costume. As a second night feature Quarter horses will take the spotlight to open the show.

Other fair features will include a pet parade for elementary school youngsters the opening afternoon, and top-quality fat animals — steers, barrows and lambs — will be offered at the annual junior fat stock sale the final afternoon of the fair.

Youngsters of the area will have their fling the final morning of the fair when Porterville's Canterbelles stage their junior horse show.

JOHN MISHLER IN CHORAL GROUP

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 25 — John Mishler represented Porterville high school last week as a member of the 500-voice Far Western Honor High School chorus that sang on a program in Pasadena for the Western Music Educators' convention. Arthur Huff, vocal music instructor at the high school, accompanied Mishler and attended the convention.

SALT DROP HALF FINISHED; WEATHER BAD

PORTERVILLE, Apr. 25 — Salt drop for the benefit of deer in the Sierra was only about half completed yesterday because of poor flying conditions, with about three tons of salt blocks actually flown into the mountains.

The project is sponsored by the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association; department of fish and game plane is used. Balance of the salt will be flown in tomorrow, if weather is good.

Ross Welch, who was on one of the flights, reports that snow is very light, even on the higher ridges, and that the Little Kern basin and Big Kern canyon have no snow at present.

May will be the peak month in shipment of California strawberries to retail markets.
